Garfield and Arthur in Early Days.

A writer in the Washington Star says: "In 1851 Chester A. Arthur, fresh from Union College, came to North Pownal, Bennington county, Vermont, and for one summer taught the village school. About two years later James A. Garfield, then a young student at Williams College, several miles distant, in order to obtain the necessary means to defray his expenses while pursuing his studies, came also to North Pownal, and established a writing school in the same room formerly occupied by Mr. Arthur, and taught classes in penmanship during the long winter evenings. Thus from the long winter evenings, came a common starting point in early life, after the lapse of more than a quarter of a century, after years of manly toil, these distinguished men are, by the action of the Chicago Convention, brought into a close relationship before the nation and before the civilized world.

Was She Near the Truth?

A St. Louis young woman enters into some interesting statistical and matrimonial conjectures. She figures out that she knows perhaps one hundred young men, in round numbers. Of these she thinks she knows about thirty intimately, and of these thirty there are not more than four whom she would consent to marry for love or money on the spur of the moment. It may not be a pleasant way of putting it, but what she says is that, taking one hundred young men as they come and go, only one out of every twenty-five can be set down as unobjectionable, and able to make a living for himself and wife.

Climatic Influences at Elko.

From the Independent.

Last night was just the kind of a night for lovers to enjoy a ride together. It was cool but not cold or windy. The roads were smooth and free from dust, and two loving hearts planted side by side in an easy-going vehicle could hardly have failed to beat as one, while the sheen shed on all about by the "sweet silver light of the moon" would most assuredly have caused any two susceptible souls to have but a single thought.

From the Homer Mining Index.

Talk about the civilizing effect of a church! Fifty good-looking girls will do more civilizing in a mining camp than all the preachers in Christendom.

Houses on wheels for the use of harvest hands are quite common sights in California. The house consists of a light frame, 24 feet long, covered with cloth, and consists of two apartments. One is used as a kitchen, the other as a dining room. These traveling boarding houses accompany each thresher in the large grain fields of Colusa, Tehama, Sutter and other counties.

WILL IT PAY?

If any one in Nevada does not believe the railroad north would be profitable, let him study the history of the Nevada Central. It was built in winter with chunks of ice in the banks and frozen ground to dig out of the cuts. It was rushed through without regard to cost, entailing an enormous expenditure to put it up in shape. The road started in with six thousand dollars a month earnings, and pay rolls fourteen thousand. Last month the figures were almost reversed. The earnings were over fourteen thousand dollars and the expenses about eight thousand. The system has hardly been organized yet. Teams were put on last month to carry freight from the end of the track to Grantsville and other points. Wood hauling for the Manhattan mine will begin next month and the earnings will go up to eighteen thousand dollars a month. The difference between a road in that desolate country and one through the fertile valleys between here and the Willamette must be evident. To say nothing of the through business between California and the East and Oregon, the cattle trade out of and the merchandise into the country, with the timber and many other industries which cannot be foreseen, the business would pay enormously from the very first day.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The New York Tribune thinks the fight during the present campaign will be close and hard, and sounds this note of warning: "It is folly to take into consideration, at any stage of this campaign, the possibility of getting a single electoral vote from the South for Republican candidates, as of any serious importance. All Republicans may as well paste in their hats, for daily admonition throughout the campaign, this practical rule: Count it as certain that the Solid South will not give a single electoral vote to the loyal candidate, unless he is strong enough to go in without one."

Garfield's career has been wonderful. A child in utter poverty, winning his way to an education by money earned by his own hands as carpenter, sailor, and boatman. A graduate of college in his 25th year, he was a State Senator at 28, a Colonel in the first year of the war at 30, and a Major-General at 33. For nine consecutive terms he has most ably represented his district in Congress, and holds a commission from Ohio as her United States Senator elect, and now, at 48, is the candidate of his party for President. Match him. — Furela Leader.

Congressman Beale of Virginia recently quoted two verses from Tennyson's "Maud," in a speech made in the House. The New York Evening Post, Chicago Tribune and Chicago Times freely criticized the verses, which were supposed to be original with Mr. Beale. The Press critics made all manner of fun of them until some one discovered that they were Tennyson's. That silenced them.

In the races at Chicago on the 21st, Hindoo won the three-quarter mile dash for two-year-olds in 1:14. Peru won the two-in-three mile race, Monopoly taking the first heat in 1:43. Bestitude won the mile-and-quarter dash in 2:08.

J. D. Negus, Secretary of the company, is our authority for saying that the southern extension of the Nevada Central will be pushed right ahead. Col. Bridges will be out in a few days, and some iron will be laid this year.

The Free Press says it is rumored that John J. Gunn is to publish a Democratic paper in Bodie.

The editor of the Albany Argus has a pointer bitch which catches fish by submerging her head and taking them out with her mouth. She does this purely for sport and does not eat or even hurt the fish.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

The Ogden thermometers recorded 102 the other day.
Splendid fishing is reported from Webber, Independence, Tahoe, and also camp 20 on the Truckee.
At Port Wine, Sierra county, June 2, the snow was eight feet deep on a level, and in the ravines and canyons it was much deeper.

There are millions of grasshoppers in the mountains east of Paradise valley and the ranchers are in constant fear that the pests will descend upon their fields.

At Albuquerque, June 15th, E. D. Harris, a gambler, shot a hackman named Carron, and was killed by the latter's friend, A. L. Young, who escaped from the officers and is in Colorado.

In Harshaw, Arizona, one of the curies of the camp is a California Indian who is doing some extensive contracting for building, and, in addition to making a good deal of money, is showing himself to be intelligent, industrious, shrewd, and in every way capable of competing with the pale-face.

The Montana Herald says that the Musselshell round-up was organized on the 21st of May, and is composed of about 75 men and upward of 200 horses. Among the many excellent riders in this round-up may be mentioned John Collins, who mounted an enraged steer in the corral and, drawing his six-shooter and swinging his lariat, galloped around the corral.

The Salt Lake Tribune tells the story of a prospector who discovered a valuable mine, and stayed with it all winter, living in a hole in the earth, patching his clothes with gunny sacks, and living on the plainest fare. Being asked how he could remain in the mountains in such a condition through such a rough winter as the last, he replied, "because I am superior to distress."

A man was found dead near San Rafael on the 21st with a bullet wound in his head and a pistol in his hand. On the leaf of a note book found upon him was written the following: "In this sheltered spot I lay me down to die. When a man outlives his usefulness, I think he ought to retire. I have done so. Adieu. Harry Eaton, Central Pacific, Fourth and Townsend streets."

Scientific Light Upon the Warm Springs Fish.

The editor of the GAZETTE recently sent to the California Academy of Sciences a specimen of fish found in a warm spring near Honey Lake. The following communication from the Director of the Museum gives the scientific name of the fish, and offers the only probable explanation of its existence in the place where it was found.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22, 1880.

R. L. Fulton:—Permit me to express, on behalf of the Academy of Sciences, our sincere thanks for your interesting donation of a fresh water fish from the Warm Springs in Honey Lake valley. Although the species has been described, it is nevertheless interesting, geographically. The technical name is Myloleucus obscurus (Gr.) Jordan. The type of the species, first described by Girard, was taken from Humboldt river. Subsequently Prof. Cope obtained specimens of the same species from Warm Springs, Utah, which he names Myloleucus pulchellus. Then Prof. Jordan, by examination of the large series in the collection made by Mr. Henshaw for the Wheeler Survey, accepts Prof. Cope's genus Myloleucus obscurus. We can account for their occurrence in the springs in no other way than by supposing that there exist subterranean channels through which they are carried or swim. An occurrence equally interesting was brought to the notice of the Academy by Mr. Bard of Ventura county, who sent us a number of small Cottoid fish ejected from an artesian well in his neighborhood.

Again thanking you for your kind remembrance of scientific matters, in which one and all should be more or less interested, I am, etc.,
W. G. W. NARFORD,
Director of Museum.

Sutro Items.

From the Sutro Independent, June 21.

About twenty men are employed at the Eureka mill.

The Atlanta mill works about fifty tons of tailings per day.

It is stated that a bridge for the Bodie extension railroad will be constructed across the river at Dayton this week.

"The first crop of alfalfa is being cut, and the yield is very large. Two more good crops will be taken off the same ground this season."

Last Thursday the experiment of running the hot water from the north end mines into and through the north lateral branch of the Sutro tunnel via the drift leading from the C. & C. shaft was made, and found to work satisfactorily.

Killed For a Deer.

URIAH, June 22.—While out hunting near Bonville, in this county, on Saturday last, John F. Bomer fired a shot at what he supposed to be a deer. On approaching the spot Bomer found the dead body of a man lying prostrate, who proved to be Rowland Nunn. The ball had passed through Nunn's chest, killing him instantly. An inquest was held by the Coroner, on Sunday, and a verdict of accidental death was rendered.

A small boy in Massachusetts, who for the first time noticed a cherry tree in blossom, enthusiastically directed the attention of his mother to the "pop-corn tree."

NEWS ITEMS OF INTEREST.

A. H. Clark of Groton has a ram that thinks. It thinks enough to butt apple trees, when there is fruit on them, until the apples drop off, when it stops thinking and goes to eating.
A mob took three murderers out of a jail at Osceola, Kan., and hanged them. A fourth was to have been killed too, but he knocked down two of the lynchers, ran to the woods and has not since been heard of.

Mr. Hammond of Minneapolis was engaged to marry Miss Bly, but he made Miss Winter his wife instead. Nobody could guess why he changed his matrimonial plan, and the mystery was deepened by the fact that Miss Bly had nothing hard to say against him. The matter is clear now, for he has eloped with her after getting possession of his wife's $15,000.

A curious car on the Boston and Albany Railroad is provided with various devices for testing the speed, strains, obstructions, resistance, and other matters concerning the running of trains. Different pens, attached to ingenious machinery, record the distance and time, the slips of the driving wheels on the rails, the exact elevation of the outside rail at every curve, and many other points of valuable information in practical railroading.

A man went fishing the other day and returned with three small trout. He carried them through the streets boldly, and when asked if those were all he caught, frankly admitted that they were. The neighbors gave him a surprise party that night and presented him with the beautifully carved motto: "An honest fisherman is the noblest work of God."

It was a lean little chicken, worth about thirty cents, that strayed from the Hammermith's yard at Madison, Ind., into the Smiths' yard. Mrs. Hammermith went to get the fowl, and Smith would not let her have it. Hammermith attempted to whip Smith, who retreated into the house. Hammermith and his wife then threw stones at the house, and Smith fired out with a gun, killing the husband.

Mrs. Garfield.

From the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's Speech at the Academy of Music in Brooklyn, June 14, 1890.

And it is the best compliment that I can pay to my partner (Mrs. Garfield), who must needs be present at the White House, that her voice has not been in the street, but that she has dwelt in the purity and sweetness of the obscurity of her own home. Those who know her, know her only to praise; and no greater praise can be given to any woman than to say she is fit to succeed Mrs. Hayes.

Destructive Storm in Canada.

NAPANEA, Ontario, June 22.—The storm of yesterday did great damage four miles west of this place. Five and one-half inches of water on a level fell in less than two hours. Hailstones as large as butternuts fell for an hour, covering the ground. Geese were killed by dozens, fences leveled to the ground, and large quantities of glass in buildings broken. Whole fields of rye and barley lie flat and are completely destroyed in Adolphus town.

Close Intimacy With Nature.

From the Halifax Mayflower.

I bemoan the day I was fool enough to return to civilization, and live like a thing of art, I who have lived so closely clasped to the warm breast of Nature, that I could feel her great heart beat, and who was never sick or unhappy while I slept on her bosom, and made her everlasting arms my refuge and my strength.

The Whitest Democrat.

From the Virginia Stage.

It is reported that A. C. Ellis, one of Nevada's delegates to the Cincinnati Convention, will nominate J. C. Hagerman of Reno for Vice President of the United States. "Worse men have been nominated by both parties. Less able men have held the office. Hagerman is about the whitest Democrat in the State."

JOTTINGS.

—Abe. Hartley will have the very nicest ice cream this evening.
—The temperance people will have a picnic at Powers' Mansion July 24.
—The Cincinnati Convention assembles at 10 o'clock, which is 7:25 Reno time.

—Wm. Green's two 8-horse teams, with freight for Surprise valley, left Lee's yard this afternoon.
—The firemen are determined to have a ball in celebration of the Fourth. It will be held on the evening of Monday, July 5.

—Edward Allen of Carson will be married to Miss Florence Ringo this evening. The ceremony will be performed by Bishop Whitaker.

—The public school examinations yesterday were largely attended by the public. The highest praise is accorded to both teachers and pupils.

—Ira Packard, who was shot by Perry McCart at Crystal Peak, is in the hospital here, doing well. McCart had not been arrested at last accounts.

—General Hatch is in town. He feels confident that the Stockton road will be of great benefit to Reno. He thinks if there is any trouble from snow the track had better be set up on a trestle work, rather than to build snow sheds.

—Sheriff Kyle of Eureka arrived last night with two prisoners for the penitentiary. They are sentenced for highway robbery, Johnson to eight and O'Brien to six years. Mr. Kyle went to Carson with them this morning, and will return and leave for home to-night.

—When a sudden cloud of dust had subsided on Virginia street last evening it was found that little Charlie Jones' horse and buggy had turned over several times in consequence of some eccentric movements of the animal. Charlie and the child with him were uninjured. The pony was not hurt, and the buggy very little damaged.

A Good Mine.

R. C. Chambers, superintendent of the Ontario mine, went west Monday night. The Ontario has paid 56 consecutive dividends of 50 cents each, and has a year's ore in sight. The rock assays about $136 a ton, the ore is four feet wide and 1200 feet long. The deepest level is the 600-foot, but the 700 foot will soon be reached. The ore is base and goes through a forty-stamp mill into two Steadfield furnaces, where it is chlorinized. The bars are 700 to 800 fine. Mr. Chambers used to live in Plumas county. He inquired for Judge Haydon, J. C. Lewis, Mr. Lake, J. H. Kinkead and others.

Pohl Indicted for Rape.

Says the Virginia Chronicle of last evening: "The Grand Jury was in session this afternoon and found an indictment against Charles T. Pohl for the crime of rape, committed upon Birdie Ogg, seven years of age, on the 22d of May in the town of Gold Hill.

OAKLAND LETTER.

A Reno Man's Observations at the Beautiful City by the Bay.

OAKLAND, Cal., June 20th, 1890.
Editor Gazette:—To-day is Sunday and like other Renoites I went to church. I find among a few strangers here an erroneous impression that Nevadans are not much given to attendance on divine worship. We have fine churches here but they are not crowded by any means by those solicitous about their spiritual welfare. Just now most of the clergy are off rustating. The period of School Academy, Seminary and College commencement exercises has closed and a general vacation has set in. I have a word in regard to these various educational institutions. It was my pleasure to attend some of the above exercises. They were for the most part good and some were excellent, yet I have the pleasure of truthfully saying that the schools of Reno compare most favorably with those in this, the "Athens of the Pacific Coast." You have a school in your town that after a determined start has had its burdens, chiefly financial, to bear, that were and are heavy for a special school, yet the methods of imparting instruction in "Bishop Whitaker's school for Girls" are not surpassed on this coast. Your public schools have become too well known that I should voice their commended excellence.
The old saying "That all is not gold that glitters" has an application here. There are on every hand magnificent residences, fine business houses, well selected stocks of goods, but a very large percentage of the business men are in debt, and running behind hand. There has been a large number of persons who came here because of the climate, schools, society and locating advantages so well secured here. They had a few thousand dollars and spent it nearly all in a fine house and the innumerable expenditures required "to keep up appearances." Business is overdone and money is scarce. Credit is carried to its farthest limits, failures are frequent and mortgages are numerous. The result already is that many business men are moving off the principal street to where rents are less, just as some may have to do in a little town in Nevada. The aping of the conveniences and style of the rich by those who are really poor is a financial whirlpool that is engulfing many who reside in the fine houses of Oakland, San Jose and to a lesser extent many other points near and in San Francisco Co. Many of those fine residences have the evidence of mining assessments filed against them in the recorder's office. L. S. B.

Theodore Winters Names a Colt.
The Sacramento Bee says that Theodore Winters, the well known stock raiser, has at the present time one of the most promising colts he has ever raised. A few days since he gave him as a name "306," and this is how he came to do it. Mr. Winters is a Democrat and while the National Republican Convention was in session at Chicago he told a Republican friend in this city that if Grant was nominated he would vote for him. Grant was not the choice of the Convention and so a few days afterward, Mr. Winters met his Republican friend and said to the latter as follows: "Well, Frank, I can't vote for your man, but I have done the next best thing." "Yes," said Frank, "What is it?" "Well," said Mr. Winters, "I have a colt which gives signs of becoming a wonderful horse on the turf, and I have named him 306." "What for?" said Frank. "Well," said Mr. Winters, "You see that was the vote Grant received on the ballot when Garfield was nominated, and if my colt stays on the track as long and sticks to the lead as close as those 306 delegates stuck to Grant there is not a horse in the world which can beat him." Frank agreed and thought the name a good one.

A Nevada Town.

Lovelocks has a prospect of becoming a town. It is located about in the centre of a very fine tract of land, known as the Humboldt Meadows. While there is much poor land in the valley, there is some of it wonderfully rich, having been deposited by floods in the Humboldt. The area cultivated this year is larger than ever before. There are 1,500 acres in grain and 1,000 in hay, 500 of it alfalfa, the rest wild hay. About 600 acres of new land have been broken up this spring. The voters number 81, out of a population of less than 150, showing that there are a good many bachelors. There are two good schoolhouses, a nice depot, a hotel, saloons, etc., where three years ago there was nothing. Some mines in the vicinity promise to aid in the development of the town. Trinity canon, 12 miles off, is showing well. The I X L district is 35 miles away and Eagle is 20 miles east.

Opportunities for the Industrious.

Lay Bros. of Golconda have about 200 acres of land in wheat and vegetables right in the heart of a most inviting and unpromising country. A small ditch supplies the water and the rest is the result of enterprise and industry. There are hundreds of places in Nevada where there are all the natural advantages a joyed, but there, where prices for grain and vegetables are very high, Nevada wants workers.

Firemen's Meeting.

There will be a special meeting of Fire Companies "48" and No. 1, in the engine house at 8:30 this (Wednesday) evening, to make arrangements for a Firemen's Ball to be held on the evening of Monday, July 5. By order of
W. H. GATCHEL,
HARRY RHODES.

PYRAMID LAKE.

Narrative of A Pleasure Trip Made by A Party From Reno.

A party of three recently made a trip on horseback to Pyramid Lake. The distance from Reno to their destination at Watson's, on the shore of the lake, is thirty eight miles. They set out at eight o'clock in the evening, with a bright moon shining overhead. The road climbed the heights back of the Anderson toll house, thence wound up a long grade to a high range of rolling hills, and down along the borders of Spanish Springs valley. More hills, a long alkali flat, hills again, and the Junction House is reached. Eighteen miles of the way have been covered. An hour's stay is made here, the horses fed and watered, and the inner man refreshed with copious draughts of clear, cold, sparkling water from one of the best wells in the country.

NOT A DROP OF WATER
is to be had on the main road to the lake for the next twelve miles. Crossing the divide beyond the junction, the way lies over a wide valley and high rolling hills again, until Pyramid City comes into view, away up in a canyon to the right. The appearance of the mountains in sight from this portion of the road is picturesque and impressive, especially when seen by moonlight. A few miles farther on, the

FIRST VIEW OF THE LAKE
is obtained from the summit of a high hill. The setting moon lighted up the tops of the mountains on the opposite shore, while the water gleamed faintly through the shadows. It was two o'clock and Jupiter was rising in the east. There was not light enough left to enable the party to see much of the lake, and they pushed on as fast as possible to

WATSON'S STATION,
which was reached in another hour. It is on the lake shore, and is shaded by native willow trees. There are scarcely any trees around the lake excepting these, and a fine growth at the Indian reservation house, where there is perhaps the finest grove in Nevada. It was in the bright sunshine of the following morning, after a sound and refreshing sleep, that the first satisfactory view of the lake was obtained. It is a grand sheet of water, forty miles in length by twelve in width. The shore line is marked by a white strip of gravelly beach all around the lake. The water is clear as crystal, but not palatable. It holds a good deal of borax in solution. It can be drunk without injurious results, but produces a marked diuretic effect. The action of the salts in the water rapidly corrodes the iron work of boats. They also have a powerful cleansing effect. Soiled linen exposed to the action of the waves comes out white as snow. The shores of the lake are encrusted with a white deposit. The greatest depth of the lake has never been ascertained. Six hundred feet is the deepest sounding recorded, but there are places where the bottom cannot be reached with that length of line. The lake abounds with

BEAUTIFUL SILVER TROUT
of an average weight of two and a half pounds, but very unequal in size. Fish of six pounds weight are frequently caught, and occasionally much heavier ones are secured. The largest trout ever caught in Pyramid weighed 23 pounds. It was captured about two years ago. Mr. Henshaw, a gentleman connected with the Smithsonian institute, spent a week at the lake three years ago. He declared that there was only one species of trout in the lake, the silver trout, salmo henuahaweti, and offered $100 for any trout of a different species that could be captured there. The differences of color and spots, he maintained, were owing to differences in the coloring of the bottom of the lake, as it is well known that the external markings of fish are effected by such variations. Other authorities name three distinct species of Pyramid trout, recently described in a letter to the GAZETTE from Fish Commissioner B. B. Redding of California. The fishermen say they think there are three distinct kinds.
(To be Continued.)

A Flower Merchant.

Harry Watkins, the news agent, drives a lively trade in bouquets. He brings two dozen out each trip and sells them in Nevada. His best customers are Dave McFarland, Reno, and Ike Ostricker, Elko. He sells some at Winnemucca, Battle Mountain, Palisade and other places. He gets fifty cents apiece for them. The flowers all come from Mrs. Tedhunter's garden across the river from Sacramento.

A New Mill.

Wait & Co. have a two-stamp custom mill at Orona which will be completed this week. Its capacity will be five tons a day and its charges $10 a ton. The power will be water from the big ditch. There are large bodies of ore in the neighborhood and the boys ought to do well.

No one need suffer with sore throats or tooth ache. A few drops of Mrs. Dr. Howe's celebrated toothache medicine will instantly stop the pain and save the tooth. (anti-alm)

When you have watches or clocks to repair don't forget the old pioneer, DeBell. His well-known reputation as a skillful workman, will insure satisfaction. (spring)

Fredrick detest anybody to make jewelry to order cheaper than he does. (mar. 1)

No Watchmaker on the Coast has a better reputation for his dealing and excellent work than F. Fredrick. (mar.)

BY TELEGRAPH!

FROM CINCINNATI.

A HOST OF NOMINATIONS.

Stevenson Permanent Chairman—Morninging For Tilden—The Tammany Delegation Out in the Cold—Committee Reports—The List of Nominations.

CINCINNATI, June 23.—The Convention assembled at 10 A. M. Stevenson of Kentucky, was made permanent chairman.

Reports of Committees.

The report of the Committee on Permanent Organization was read and laid upon the table until after reading report on Credentials.

The Committee on Credentials reports against contestants in Massachusetts, and also against the Tammany delegates from New York.

Proceeding to Nomination.

The Committee on Resolutions not being prepared to report, a delegate from Kentucky moved that the Convention proceed to the nomination of a candidate for President. Motion was carried. The roll of States was ordered called for presentation of candidates. Gov. Stevenson, on taking the chair, was received with prolonged cheers.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions recommended admission of delegates from Territories and District of Columbia without the right to vote.

Regrets For Tilden's Withdrawal.

The report of the Committee on Platform congratulates the country on its escape from a third term, and regrets that Samuel J. Tilden has been withdrawn as a candidate.

Against Tammany.

The Committee on Credentials will report against the admission of the Tammany delegation, the vote being 32 to 5 in committee.

The Massachusetts delegates have settled the question of contest among themselves.

The Minority Report.

The minority report was submitted by Carroll of Kansas, favoring the admission of contestants from New York and that they be allowed to cast 30 votes, the regular delegates casting 50.

Calling the Roll.

Roll of States was called on the previous question, the previous question being on adoption of the majority report of Committee on Credentials, and resulted in favor of putting the previous question.

Debating the Report.

One hour was given to debate on the report of the Committee on Credentials, and 40 minutes given to the contestants.

Nomination of Field.

When California was reached, McElraith presented the name of Field. He said the Democrats now had an opportunity to select the man who would ensure victory.

Down on Kelly.

The minority report of the Committee on Credentials, favoring the admission of twenty contestants from New York, was rejected. The vote on adoption of minority report stood: for, 20; against, 457, New York not voting.

A String of Nominations.

Ohio presented the name of Thurman. Pennsylvania presented the name of Gen. Hancock of New York, amid great cheering.

When South Carolina was reached great cries were raised for Gen. Hampton. Gen. Hampton took the platform on his crutches, and received a most enthusiastic reception. Gen. Hampton seconded the nomination of Bayard. He was cheered frequently during his remarks.

Gov. Hubbard of Texas seconded the nomination of Hancock.

When Delaware was called there was great and prolonged cheering, and Geo. Gray of Delaware took the platform for the purpose of presenting the name of Senator Bayard. When the name of Bayard was mentioned there was more applause.

When Illinois was reached Marshall presented the name of Morrison of Illinois.

Senator Voorhees presented the name of Hendricks. At the mention of his name the crowd again began cheering.

Personal.

A Lindley's aunt died at Sacramento yesterday. He has gone to attend the funeral.

Miss Stella Gates, of Carson, arrived here last evening, on a visit to Mrs. J. E. Jones. Jos. Wason, the well-known mining expert, has been visiting the Con. Emeralds and Judge Marshall's mine to-day.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

Following is the text of the resolutions adopted by the Republican National Convention on Saturday, June 5, 1880:

Republican rule has restored our solid basis of payment in coin for all the national obligations, and has given us a currency absolutely good and legal, and equal in every part of our country.

Under its administration railways have increased from 21,000 miles in 1860 to more than 80,000 miles in 1879.

Our foreign trade has increased from $700,000,000 to $1,150,000,000 in the same time, and our exports, which were $200,000,000 less than our imports in 1860, were $200,000,000 more than our imports in 1879.

Without resorting to loans it has, since the war closed, defrayed the ordinary expenses of government besides the necessary expenses of the public debt and discharged annually more than $200,000,000 of the public debt, and by refunding the balance at lower rates, has reduced the annual interest charge from nearly $150,000,000 to less than $50,000,000.

All the industries of the country have revived; labor is in demand; wages have increased, and throughout the entire country there is evidence of a coming prosperity greater than we have ever enjoyed.

Upon this record the Republican party asks for the continued confidence and support of the people, and the convention submits for their approval the following statements of the principles and purposes which will continue to guide and inspire its efforts:

ENUMERATION OF PRINCIPLES.

First. We affirm that the work of the last twenty-one years has been such as to commend itself to the favor of the nation, and that the Republic of the United States, which we have achieved through immense difficulties should be preserved.

That the peace regained should be cherished. That the dis-severed Union, now happily restored, should be perpetuated, and that the liberties secured to this generation should be transmitted undiminished to future generations.

That the order established and the credit acquired should never be imperiled. That the pensions promised should be paid. That the debt so much reduced should be extinguished by the full payment of every dollar thereof.

That the reviving industries should be further promoted, and that the commerce already so great should be steadily encouraged.

Second. The Constitution of the United States is the supreme law, and not a mere compact. Out of the confederated States it made a sovereign nation. Some powers are denied to the nation, while others are retained by the States; but the boundary between the powers delegated and those reserved is to be determined by national and not by State tribunals.

Third. The work of popular education is left to the care of the several States, but it is the duty of the national government to aid that work to the extent of its constitutional ability. The intelligence of the nation is but the aggregate of the intelligence in the several States, and the destiny of the nation must be guided, not by the genius of any one State, but by the genius of all.

NON-SECTARIAN SENTIMENTS.

Fourth. The constitution wisely forbids Congress to make any laws respecting an establishment of religion, but it is idle to hope that the nation can be protected against the influence of sectarianism while each State is exposed to its particular domination. We therefore recommend that the constitution be so amended as to lay some prohibition upon the Legislature of each State, and to forbid the appropriation of public funds to the support of sectarian schools.

Fifth. We reaffirm the belief avowed in 1876, that the duties levied for the purpose of revenue should be so directed as to favor the American laborer. That no further grant of the public domain should be made to any railroad or other monopoly. That every law enacted in the States, its twin barrier, polygamy, must die in the Territories. That everywhere the protection accorded to a citizen of American birth must be secured to citizens of American adoption. That it is the duty of Congress to develop and improve our water-courses and harbors, but we insist that further subsidies to private persons or corporations must cease. That the obligations to the men who preserved its integrity in the late war of battle are undiminished by the lapse of fifteen years since their final victory. Their perpetual honor is and shall forever be the grateful pride and the sacred duty of the American people.

THE CHIEF PLANK.

Sixth. Since the authority to regulate immigration and intercourse between the United States and foreign nations rests with the Congress of the United States and its treaties and laws, it is the duty of the Republican party, regarding the unrestricted immigration of the Chinese as an evil of great magnitude, involves the exercise of the power to restrain and limit that immigration by the enactment of such just, humane and reasonable provisions as will produce the result.

Seventh. The duty of patriotism and patriotism which characterized the earlier career of Rutherford B. Hayes in peace and war, and which guided him through the darkest and most perilous of his life, has been his constant guide, and he has continued to inspire him in his career as chief executive, and that history will accord to his administration the honors which are due to an efficient, just and courageous fulfillment of the public business, and will honor his intervention between the people and proposed partisan laws.

INTEGRITY OF THE DEMOCRACY.

Eighth. We charge upon the Democratic party the habitual sacrifice of justice and patriotism to a selfish and ignominious lust for office and patronage; that to obtain possession of the national and state governments and of the control of place and position, they have obstructed all the efforts to preserve the purity and conserve the freedom of suffrage; have devised every artifice to corrupt and return; have labored to unseat lawfully elected members of Congress, to secure at all hazards the vote of the majority of States in the House of Representatives; have endeavored to occupy by force and fraud places of trust given to others by the people of Maine, and rescued by the courage and action of Maine's patriotic sons; have by methods vicious in principle and tyrannical in practice, attached partisan legislation to appropriation bills, have crushed the rights of individuals, and violated the principles and sought the favor of rebellion against the nation, and have endeavored to obliterate the sacred memories of the war and to overcome its inestimable good results—freedom and individual equality.

We affirm it to be the duty and purpose of the Republican party to use all the legitimate means of law to secure the perfect harmony which may be beneficial to the nation, and to submit to the practical, sensible people of the United States to say whether it would not be dangerous to the best interests of our country at this time to surrender to the administration of the national government to a party which seeks to overthrow the existing policy which we are so proud to preserve, and thus bring destruction and confusion where there is now order, confidence and hope.

NOTE THIS FACT.—To subscribers in Reno, Washoe, Winnemucca, Elko, Pioche, Austin, Aurora, Gardnerville, and all other towns in Nevada, the Virginia Chronicle brings all the Eastern Telegraphic News, Comstock Mining News, Virginia City items and State News, 15 to 20 hours ahead of any other newspaper.

The Chronicle is a thorough newspaper. It is a daily epitome of the world's history. While Democratic in its principles, it is the organ of no political organization. Nor is it the servant of any corporation. It advocates Democratic principles because it believes that the fundamental principles of that party form the life and essence of the American system of government, while those of the Republican party aim to the overthrow of popular government.

YOUNG MEN

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING FROM

There are many at the age of thirty and sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment is often found, and some small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and turbid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genital-urinary organs.
